Alumina figures approx based on industry standard of 90% load factor of DWT.
Cargo Deadweight typically ranges from 85% to 95% of a commercial ship's total Deadweight Tonnage (DWT). Source - ScienceDirect.com

Aluminium figures are derived from a simple division (by two) where two tons of alumina = 1 ton of aluminium per industry norms
In the Hall-Héroult process, the mass ratio of alumina (Al_2O_3) to the produced aluminum (Al) is exactly 2: 1. This means it takes 2 tonnes of alumina to extract 1 tonne of pure aluminum. Source - www.hydro.com
